Radius (A Jabil Company) is a global strategy and innovation consulting firm serving the IoT, Digital, consumer, healthcare, packaging and commercial/industrial markets. At Radius, our secret ingredient is our people. We hire talented individuals with a passion for delivering results that know how to discover, design, develop and deliver products that are better than anything on the market today. We build multi-disciplinary teams of business strategists, researchers, designers, human factors specialists, engineers, quality, and manufacturing experts who thrive on solving our clients' most complex challenges for bringing successful products to market.

Join our award winning team if you want to sharpen your skills and geek out on a variety of projects. It goes without saying; we offer a dynamic, fast-paced work environment with plenty of growth opportunities, excellent compensation, and benefits.

STRATEGY PRACTICE AND THE ROLE

Radius has a unique one-of-a-kind strategy practice that draws on deep principles of both quantitative-hypothesis driven business strategy and qualitative user-centric consumer strategy. At Radius, we test the boundaries of strategy consulting with every project and deliver outcome based strategies for our clients. We work on cutting edge Digital transformation and IoT projects. We have a team of talented MBA's and Ethnographic Researchers from reputed schools and companies. This team works in collaboration with clients to solve their future facing strategy problems.
